

Ahoy, Neighbor!

Puget Sound offers a wealth of local goods for us to trade and market networks to rebuild as we enter a lower-energy future together. Consider our sailboats as green transport for your own business or an island-based friend.

We're happy to explore demonstration projects with you, and we're also open to barter.

We do not transport passengers or livestock.

Jefferson County Farm Tour 2012
Port Ludlow docks

Tour visitors discovered an irresistible organic veggie platter prepared by our farmer, Haley Olsen Wailand, of Dharma Ridge Farm.

Photo: Cam Pennell

www.salishseatrading.coop

206-707-5793

We invite you to friend us on Facebook or follow us on Twitter!

Facebook: Salish Sea Cooperative

Twitter: salishseacoop

Front image reprinted by kind permission of San Francisco Maritime National Historical Park. Thank you, mateys!

All rights reserved under Creative Commons, creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0

Salish Sea
Trading Cooperative worker-owned

From ship to shore, sailing local goods and more!

Port Townsend/
Port Ludlow

Whidbey Island

Bainbridge Island

Ballard

Carbon-neutral transport for our local goods and community sustainable transport space for a diverse workforce.

- Share best practices with other sailors and community groups.
- Have fun along the way!

Working in harmony with Nature's gifts of wind and tide

You can help us develop sail transport in our bioregion by:

Resiliency

Founded in 2010, our sailor-owned cooperative is patiently revitalizing sail transport as an intelligent and creative response to climate change, peak oil, and other resource constraints.

Our goals:

- Conserve precious energy resources and reduce our carbon footprint.
- Support local farmers and merchants in relocalizing our economy and building resiliency into the foodshed.
- Develop living wage, green jobs in the
- Supporting our CSA or hiring one of our peer-shared sailboats.
- Donating to our IndieGoGo fundraiser as we build a specialized 35' cargo boat with electric engine.
- Serving on our Board. For 2015, we're reorganizing in a truer cooperative model.
- Telling your sailor friends about us. We welcome experienced volunteers to try a trip with the co-op.
- Connecting with us via social media: our Facebook or Twitter accounts. Let's keep in touch as we ensure that Cascadia continues as a wonderful place to live and prosper in!

2015 CSA Schedule

We sail local goods: Finnriver cider for their market stands, and fresh, organic veggies from Dharma Ridge Farm/Port Ludlow, for our own CSA and your easy pick up at Toast Ballard, 5615 24th Ave NW, 10 AM—12 PM, the following Sundays. Only $30 for a generously sized box, & we invest all proceeds back into the co-op.

Sunday, July 26th

Sunday, August 23rd

Sunday, September 20th

Sunday, October 19th

And a special trip for our Thanksgiving tables, November 22nd.

Finnriver Cider, our first pioneering sail transport customer!

Member of Sustainable Communities ALL Over Puget Sound (SCALLOPS): Ballard Chamber of Commerce; and Shareable Network

They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters...

Psalms 107:23